USEFUL AND SUGGESTIVE.

—A gallon of lye put into a barrel of hard water will make it as soft as rain water.

—Yellow plaid-boys may be made white by rubbing them gently with sand-paper and polishing with chamoin.

—Ginger Snaps.—One pint of rice, lenses, one-half cup water. Boil 15 minutes, stir in white boiling one cup of butter or lard, one tablespoonful ginger.

When cold add two teaspoonfuls soda and sufficient flour to roll and bake in a quick oven.—Springfield Republican.

—Stewed Parsnips.—Wash and scrape the parsnips, and slice them in pieces half an inch in thickness, then put them in a frying-pan with half a pint of hot water and a tablespoonful of butter.

Add salt to taste, cover closely, and let them stew until the water is cooked out, then stir to prevent them from burning until they are a light brown color.— Housekeeper.

—Light Rolls.—One cupful of lyewater, two cupfuls of milk, one yeast cake, four enough to make a good batter; when light add a large spoonful of butter, one spoonful of sugar and mold; allow it to rise again; when light wipe the tops with milk or the white of an egg and bake in a good oven.—Estation Herald.

—A Nice Dessert.—No more wholesome dessert can be made than "pop-overs," if they are light and well baked, and it is one that is almost universally liked. A good proportion for these is four eggs, two cups of milk, two cups of flour and salt. They should be baked in small earthenware cups, which are sold for the purpose, and the oven must be of moderate temperature.—Boston Budget.

head of engravings. Many are printed in a soft brown ink, others in a delicate blue, and occasionally in a quiet green ink. Do not choose an impression printed in green to hang in a country house surrounded by nature's unap-proachable variety of greens. Do not hang a photo-gravure next to an oil painting or pastel.—Demore's Monthly.

—To Keep Sweet Milk From Sour-ing.—Take a tin pan larger than the pan or vessel containing the milk, and put some cold water into it, then set the vessel containing the milk into the pan of water. Take a piece of cloth, cut square, and large enough to cover over the vessel holding the milk, and let the four corners reach into the water. The water will keep the milk sweet, and has, with very good success.—Ohio Farmer.

—The women inmates of an English prison are said to make the best tomato catsup in Great Britain. This is their method. They take tomatoes in an oven and when quite soft rub through a sieve, add to every pound of pulp a quart of Chili vinegar, one ounce of chile, quarter of an ounce of white pepper, a half ounce of salt. Boil all this together until soft, then rub through a sieve and add to every pound of sauce the juice of three lemons. Return to the sauce-pan and cook thick like cream; when cool, bottle, cork and seal.

—Whole Wheat Bread.—Put one pint of milk in a bowl, pour into it one pint of boiling water and when lukewarm add one teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of brown sugar, one-half cup of yeast or one-half yeast cake and sufficient whole wheat flour to make a stiff batter. Beat well, cover and place over night. In the summer any place in the pantry is warm enough. Early in the morning stir to sufficient whole wheat flour to make a soft dough. Beat well and turn into greased pans. When very light or about double its bulk bake in an oven three-quarters of an hour.—N.
Y. Observer.

ever did with his "ads."—Burlington

A Close Appraisal.—Miss Sweetlips (slyly): A penny for you: thoughts, Mr. Stalphen!

Mr. Stalphen: Thank you, Miss Sweetlips. That is just about what I am getting now in the literary market.
—Burlington Free Press.

Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla cured me of a long standing case of catarrh, and I feel better in health and spirits than I ever did since I was a young lady.
—Mrs. Mary Hume, Richmond, Va.

Catarrh Can Be Cured.

Catarrh can never be cured by ointments and other local applications, but there is one remedy that can permanently remove the cause. It has cured cases where the discharge was so copious and offensive that it felt as if the whole head was a mass of corruption. Other cases indicated by an irresistible desire to hawk and spit the phlegm collecting in a tough mass behind the soft palate. In other cases where the matter dried up in such large lumps as to fairly close up the nostrils and prevent usual respiration.

In other cases where the breath was so offensively revolting and fetid that the person became a disgusting object in society. Other cases wherein complaint was made of a distressful feeling above and between the eyes and where the sense of smell was entirely lost. Other cases where the droppings fell into the throat and the voice became husky, and caused a troublesome cough. Oh! you want to know the name of the medicine? It is called Dr.
John Bull's Sarsaparilla. It can be bought of any druggist.

There is this unfortunate difference between a church singer and a newspaper poet—one sings in a choir, but the other seldom sings in less than a room.—Burlington Free Press.

His Daughter Suffered From Eczema.

My daughter suffered for five years with an attack of Chronic Eczema, that baffled the treatment of all the best practitioners. I then concluded to try a course of Swift's Specific (S.
S.S.). She began to improve from the first dose, and before she had completed the second bottle the irritation had disappeared, and she is now well and enjoying unexcelled health. These are plain and simple facts, and I will cheerfully answer all inquiries, either in person or by mail, V. VAUGHAN, Druggist,
Sandy Bottom, Va.

It is the Best.

I have used Swift's Specific for cleansing the blood of impurities, and find it to be the best in the market.
It not only purifies the blood, but is a most excellent tonic, and builds up the general health promptly.

Catarth is not a real but a constitutional disease, and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla to effect a cure.

It is a Mistake

To try to cure catarrh by using local applications. Catarrh is not a local but a constitutional disease. It is not a disease of the man's nose but of the man. To effect a cure, requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acting through the blood reaches every part of the system expelling the taint which causes the disease, and imparting health.

"A call has been made for a meeting of the Farmers' and Laborers' Union of the Second Congressional district to meet at Madisonville, on Tuesday the 29th of January next. The representation is to be one from each magisterial district, which will give a delegation of about twenty-five members."—Hustler.

Perry-Whitaker.

On Jan. 6th, 1891, at 3 o'clock p. m. Rev. H. F. Perry and Miss M. Edna Whitaker, grand daughter of Rev. Jas. Y. Barnett of the C. P. Church, will be united in marriage by Bros. J. M. Gill D. D., and W. M. Perry, D. D. The ceremony will take place at the residence of the bride's father, D. M. Whitaker, near Casey.

All his members and friends are invited to attend.

It now devolves upon Bro. Perry to lift the long-fallen mantles of Reverends James, John, and William Barnett and bear them with credit to the famous lives of these worthy dead and with honor to the cause of Christ.

Aided as he will be by a woman of such worth as we know Miss Whitaker to be, we feel certain that his labors shall be signally blessed in the future, as they have been in the past, and that his life work shall be crowned with success.

J. F. Danforth.

The Republican City Council met in called session one day last week and remitted the fine of $30, assessed against Toliver Chappell for assaulting an old crippled dorker for voting the Democratic ticket. Judge Brown issued a capias as soon as he was released from the work house and would have sent him back to work out the fees and costs, amounting to $16, but he jumped the town before he could be caught.

About two hundred children and young people will take part in the Cantata to be given at the Opera house Friday night.

Bassett & Co. began another of their big special sales Saturday, which will continue this week.

The children and young people of the Methodist church are making great preparations for their entertainment to be given at the Opera House, Friday night. It is to be a Christmas Cantata and about 200 will take part. To pay hall rent 10c admission will be charged.

Bassett & Co. have in their front windows a miniature train of cars and steamboat, the latter in a tank filled with water. The cars are propelled around a circular track and the boat plows its way through the water by steam, like a sure-enough steamer. The toys attract a great deal of attention.

The ladies of Grace church in congratulating themselves on the marked success which attended their recent Bazaar and lunch, offer their most earnest and sincere thanks to all whose efforts and contributions made this success possible. For the generous patronage of many friends which enabled them to add $100 to their treasury they are especially grateful.

One of the most successful and prosperous business houses in the city is the clothing and gents' furnishing store of Pys, Dicken & Wall. The firm has been engaged in business for several years and by judicious advertising and fair dealing have built up a splendid trade that is constantly growing larger. Capt. John Pys, Mr. S. R. Dicken and Mr. J. T. Wall, all capable and experienced men, are the members of the firm. No business firm in the city deserves the confidence of the public more than theirs and when they announce a special sale with extra bargains from now until Dec. 31 it is worth the while of all needing goods in their line to leave what they have to say. CREAM OF NEWS.

Fell into a Sink-hole. (Clarksville Progress.)

Suit for $5,000 damages has just been filed against the city of Clarksville by Julia Johnson, colored. This woman claims to have received damages caused by a loose stone in crossing over a gutter on Franklin street some months ago.

A Fight Between Brothers.

Two brothers named John and Lindsay Leavell, who are laborers on a farm near Vaughn's Chapel fell out Friday and engaged in a fight with knives. Lindsay was badly cut in several places by his brother and the outcome of his injuries is still a matter of doubt.

The Cowan-Prowse Contest.

The contested election case is slowly reaching an interesting stage. The respondent will finish reading his depositions to-day and the board will adjourn till Friday. Upon re-assembling the lawyers will be given a hearing and then the board will get down to the real work of purging the poll books of illegal votes.

The Kentuckian's Carriers.

Emerson Roper and Elton Zimmer, the KENTUCKIAN's carrier boys, will, with their next regular visit, call upon their patrons with a handsome Christmas address. The custom of remembering the carrier boys in a substantial manner once a year has long obtained here as in most other places, and is well understood by the KENTUCKIAN's readers. The boys have done their work with unusual regularity and promptness, and deserve a liberal supply of Christmas money from those whom they have served so faithfully during the year now nearing a close. Don't forget to lay aside a half dollar or a quarter for them.

A Well-Healed Tramp. (Princeton Banner.)

Near Marion, in Crittenden county, an unknown man was found dead in the woods last Friday morning. His body was taken to Marion and $25.65 in money and a watch found on his person. He was identified as an unknown tramp and beggar that passed down through this county into Crittenden in the early part of last week, but no one knew his name or suspected that he had any money. At Grayneyville, he purchased a raisin, some wearing apparel and two boxes of "Rough on Rats." It is evident that he had killed himself by taking some of the poison.

After vain attempts to learn his nativity the authorities at Marion buried his remains Monday.

A Conjured Woman.

A colored woman named Mary Gaines, in the Bellevue neighborhood, has at frequent intervals been having "spells" resembling epileptic fits, ever since last Thursday. Dr. Bell was called in but was unable to relieve her and a colored home doctor from Princeton was then sent for and has taken charge of the case. He claims that the woman has been "conjured" by a "yaller nigger" who put "pizen" in a glass of sweet milk she had poured out to drink, and left upon the table for a few moments while she went into another room. The colored population in the vicinity are much stirred up over the affair. At last accounts the "doctor" was trotting the case by lying on of hands and the fits were occurring at longer intervals. He claims that he can effect a complete cure by keeping up his "doctoring."
